LOUISVILLE TO STOP BUYING

SOCIAL WORKERS ENGAGED IN CAMPAIGN TO CURTAIL
RECKLESS BUYING IN ALL LINES.

By the Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, May 3.—Leaders of churches, and women's clubs and social workers here are engaged in a city-wide drive to induce residents of Louisville to join in a campaign to cut down the cost of living by curtailing reckless buying at high prices. Thousands have already joined and it is hoped eventually to enlist 200,000 persons.

The movement was inaugurated by Louisville club women. It was endorsed and given impetus by the Presbyterian Minister's Circle, the Crescent Hill Forward club and the Conference of Social workers. The churches have approved it and United Trades and Labor assembly and the Building Trades council have been asked to join in a permanent organization.

It is proposed to organize a Cheaper Living committee to be composed of representatives of many civic organizations.

Mayor George W. Smith has given the movement a semi-official endorsement by announcing his adherence and Mrs. Smith has promised that her household will be conducted so near as possible along the lines of economy suggested by the promoters of the idea.

The drive against reckless buying is headed by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Welch, president of the Louisville Ministerial Association, who is aided by a committee including in its membership a Roman Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi as well as representatives of women's clubs.

"Buy no new clothing, shoes or other wearing apparel," is the first plank in the economy platform. "Wear what you have, no matter how shabby or out of style," it continues, and adds: "Reduce the consumption of meat in each household, abstain from candy, soft drinks and other confections; deposit money in the bank and keep a record of money saved through practicing economies."

"If the people of Louisville will take this movement seriously," said the Rev. Dr. Welch, "we actually can force down prices here on the necessities of life. Persons generally are spending money like drunken sailors; labor, which should be producing essentials, is devoted to non-essentials. This is not the time for overalls, except for working people. We don't want fads—what we do want is at least 200,000 Louisville people to join this campaign. Let's make it a badge of honor to wear old clothes, carry lunches to the office, abstain from sweets and buy nothing not absolutely needed. Then watch prices drop."

DEATH TOLL GROWS LARGER AT PEGGS

By the Associated Press

MUSKOGEE, May 4.—The death toll of the tornado that Sunday night wiped out the little town of Peggs, in the northwest part of Cherokee county, may reach 70, it was indicated today when reports of several additional deaths, as a result of injuries, reached Muskogee. The death list last night stood at 51 and 6 more victims were reported today. Physicians and rescue workers estimated that possibly a score of the injured would not survive.

Peggs this morning buried its dead. There was one great funeral for the more than 50 victims. Whole families were placed in one grave.

Financial loss was great, but no estimate of its total has been made.

LAW ENFORCEMENT COMES PRETTY HIGH

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Prohibition enforcement will cost eight million dollars, representative Galligan declared today in the house. "There are more illicit stills now than before prohibition became effective," he said, adding that the bulk of anti-saloon league funds is used to hire special agents to locate the stills.

$100,000 Garage, Hotel and Apartment House Will Be Erected in Ada

Work commenced this week on what probably will be the finest garage in southern Oklahoma and one of the finest in the country. It will be finished by September of this year.

The new garage is being erected on East Main street just east of the Katy rooming house. It will be 144x150 feet, built of concrete and brick. It is estimated the building will cost $100,000.

The building for the garage is being put up by Bob Ford, owner of the lot. The garage is for Fleet Cooper, Mr. Cooper having leased the building for a long term of years. He will move into the new building as soon as it is ready for occupancy.

Mr. Cooper will place in the building one of the most up-to-date garages and automobile supply houses in Oklahoma. Included in his business plan will be a top shop, battery shop, paint shop, large store room, accessory room and large display room for the Nash car for which Mr. Cooper is agent in this county. There will also be a drive-in filling station, and an up-to-date confectionery on the ground floor of the building. In fact it will be one of the most complete garages in the country. Mr. Cooper states that this garage is 10 years ahead of the time, but that he is permanently located in Ada and that he wants a garage that will be modern and up-to-date many years in the future.

The second story of the building will be something of an innovation for the city of Ada and for an automobile house to inaugurate. This will consist of a first class, modern up-to-date rooming house to be operated by the garage. There will be 21 rooms for this purpose and they will be for the men who work at the garage, for transient customers to use as they pass through Ada and a hotel generally. There will be a woman's rest room on this floor so that patrons of the garage can make themselves perfectly at home.

The third floor of the building will be an apartment house. There will be 14 apartments, six of them with three rooms each and eight of them with four rooms each. They will be modern in every respect. This will make 71 rooms in the building in addition to the garage downstairs.

Mr. Fleet Cooper, proprietor of the Fleet Cooper garage is one of the best automobile men in Oklahoma. He has been in the business seven years, most of this time in Texas and Oklahoma. He was at Haddonfield for several years and came to Ada about 20 months ago. He married at Ada and says his permanent home is to be in this city. Mr. Cooper employs about 15 men and they are as loyal and enthusiastic about the business as Mr. Cooper is.

INDIANA WILL POLL BIG VOTE

PREFERENCE PRIMARY IN THE HOOSIER STATE PROMISES
MUCH INTEREST IN G.
O. P. CONTEST.

By the Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, May 4.—Fair weather and a deep rooted interest in the campaign is expected to produce a heavy vote today in the Indiana preference primary. Special interest of the state and nation centered in the republican preference presidential contest, in which four of the leading aspirants are asking the support of Indiana voters. Major General Wood, Governor Lowden of Illinois, Senator Johnson of California and Senator Harding of Ohio have all had the active support of state-wide organizations and each has conducted a comprehensive speaking tour of the state during the last two weeks. There are no candidates for the democratic nomination for president on the ballot, and the Indiana law forbids the writing in of names.

OKLAHOMA WILL LOOK AFTER HER OWN IN GOTHAM

By News' Special Service.
NEW YORK, May 4.—On account of the large number of Oklahoma students who will attend the Columbia University summer session, in which nearly one thousand courses, taught by hundreds of instructors, will be given, plans have been made by the Oklahoma Club to look after their interests while they are in New York City.

The faculties of leading universities, colleges and schools, east and west have been drawn upon by Columbia for this session, which lasts from July 6 until August 13, and which will attract students from practically every state and from many foreign countries.

The officers of the Oklahoma Club are: Chairman, Miss Florence McMurtry, Northeastern State Normal, Tahlequah, Okla.; Secretary-treasurer, Miss Flora A. Wright, Mangum, Okla.

Last year the summer school attendance approximated 10,000. This year these figures promise to be greatly exceeded. The number of teachers and others from Florida seeking professional instructions is likely to be far more numerous, applications from that section, according to Prof. John J. Coss, the new director, being about double those of 1919. Columbia authorities will assist the Oklahoma Club in looking after the interests of the students from that state.

Courses covering such a wide range of subjects as Assyrian law, business, journalism, engineering, medicine, arts, music and education, as well as courses in clay modeling, advanced painting, short story writing, dancing, household chemistry, and architecture, will be offered at the Columbia summer session.

Many Oklahoma students who have been taking work in the Home and Community Study department of Columbia university, in which a great variety of courses including philosophy, law, short story writing, business, sociology, history, library economy, economics, accounting, psychology, romance languages, fine arts, and agriculture are given, are making plans to attend the summer session. This department though started only last fall, is growing rapidly and students in practically every state and many foreign countries are enrolled in its mail courses. The sailors at sea, for example, are studying navigation under Prof. Harold Jacoby, the noted astronomer.

GETTING IN PRACTICE FOR THE BIG EVENT

TEXAS DEMOCRATS HOLD CONVENTION

By the Associated Press

DALLAS, Tex., May 4.—Democrats in county conventions today were selecting delegates to the state democratic convention, which in turn, on May 25th, will name the Texas representation to the national conference at San Francisco.

Of the 1400 state convention delegates to be selected today, more than 1200 will carry instructions to vote full endorsement of Wilson, as expressed in the will of precinct conventions last Saturday, when the county convention delegates were selected.

NAVAL PLANS WERE STILL INCOMPLETE

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 4.—In view of the general sentiment over the country that the navy would not have been justified in preparing for war with Germany in advance of a declaration by congress, Admiral Benson, war-time chief of naval operations, testified today for the senate investigating committee investigating the Sims-Daniels row. He said the navy prepared plans before the declaration of war, but "they were not complete," he testified, and are not complete in some respects today. "We knew if we did not enter the war we would have to conform our operations to the general plans of the other allies, and we had no knowledge of their plans until after we declared war."

PRESIDENT TO VETO KNOX RESOLUTION

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 4.—In the opinion of administration officials close to President Wilson, the Knox resolution is certain to be vetoed if adopted by congress. It was said at the White House here today that no one had been authorized to speak with final authority for the president, but it was intimated that the general expectation, those in his confidence, was that he would adhere strictly to the position he announced last summer against any form of separate peace.

DARING FLYER VISITING HERE

TOWN WAS THRILLED BY FEATS OF RECRUITING SERVICE
MEN FROM ARMY POST
AT FORT SILL.

All Ada held its breath this morning when a DeHavilland plane from somewhere in the clouds arrived in our midst and began to perform stunts of every description. The plane was propelled by a 400 horse power Liberty motor.

The plane came from Post Field, Fort Sill, and was in charge of Lieut. Paul T. Wagner, with David Brann as mechanic. The plane came to Ada to interest men in the aviation branch of the army.

For about an hour the plane circled over the city, first in straight steady flights, then circling, then side banking, looping, barrel rolling, tail spinning, Emmelman turning, diving and vertical reverses. In fact it looked as if Mr. Wagner was doing everything in the aviator's decalogue, so to speak. Then he came to earth at the Barringer field and spent the remainder of the day making friends with the people of Ada.

Lieutenant Wagner and Mr. Brann came from the government post at Fort Sill. The lieutenant is an instructor in the aviation corps there and he made the 115 mile trip to Ada in 50 minutes. He is seeking recruits and will likely have many applicants to carry back before he will return to Fort Sill tonight but will be in Ada again tomorrow to continue his labors. Tomorrow Miss Winifred Rhodus, of the News force, will go up with him in his machine and tell the readers of the News what she sees and how she feels up in the air.

Lieutenant Wagner is one of the best aviators in the government service today. He joined the army in 1918 and received training at Mather field, Sacramento, California. He has become one of the most daredevil flyers in the world, and yet does his work in such careful manner that he has never been hurt in a fall. The nearest he ever came to being injured was when he lost control of a machine in the west and only regained it in time to save himself. The machine was demolished.

The requirement for entry into the aviation service is simply a high school education or its equivalent. When a man joins the service he takes an examination and if he can stand the test he is taught flying. If he fails to stand the examination he works as a mechanic. Applicants may join for one or three year terms.

TREASURER FREED OF FELONY CHARGE

By News' Special Service

EUFULA, May 4.—Charged with embezzling $900 in school funds, Cleveland S. Whitlow, formerly treasurer of McIntosh county, was acquitted yesterday in trial before Judge Bozart of Okmulgee, in district court here. The judge dismissed the jury and sustained the demurrer of the defendant, that the state had failed to make a case against the accused.

According to Fred Parkinson, state examiner and inspector, who filed the audit of the treasurer's accounts, in Eufaula, says Whitlow's shortage is $14,462.31.

Whitlow has claimed at all times that he is not short in his accounts with the county, as was proven in Monday's trial in the $900 matter, of which he was accused of appropriating to his own use, and that if brought to trial on any other shortage as is claimed by the state examiner and inspector that he will be able to prove his innocence.

MURDERED WOMAN IS FOUND BY OFFICERS

By the Associated Press

DIXIELAND, Calif., May 4.—The body of Nina Lee Deloney was found this morning by the searching party directed by Walter Andrew Watson, bigamist, murderer and alleged slayer.

Five miles north of Coyote Watson halted the ambulance "there's the gulch," he said.

Assisted by deputy sheriff, Watson walked to a spot near a small cliff, "there's the ledge," he said pointing.

The deputy sheriff turned a few shovel fulls of earth and revealed the body.

SMOKING AMONG WOMEN IS NEW YORK SUBJECT

"A woman is only a woman. But a good cigar is a smoke." Thus decided the hero of Kipling's poem after Maggie's ultimatum that he give up her or the weed.

Seems odd, doesn't it, that a poet still alive should have chosen such a subject as the right of man to smoke? These days the only controversy revolving around the subject concerns the right of "Maggie" and her sisters to the solace bestowed upon the devotees of My Lady Nicotine.

Women are smoking in increasing numbers every day; even the foes of the practice admit that; the point is:

First, is it injurious to their morals?

Second, is it injurious to their health?

The anti's were apparently losing ground rapidly, but they received powerful reinforcements a few days ago in the person of Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings, of the United States public health service. Taking his stand on the second of the two questions asked above, General Cummings appeals to American women to stop smoking in order to prevent the deterioration of the race.

"The cigarette habit indulged in by women," says General Cummings, "tends to cause nervousness and insomnia and ruins the complexion. If American women generally contract the cigarette habit, as reports now indicate they are doing, the entire American nation will suffer. The physical tone of the whole people will be lowered. This is one of the most evil influences in American life today. The number of American women who are becoming cigarette smokers is amazing."

"Harms Women More." "The habit harms a woman more than a man. The woman's nervous system is more highly organized than a man's. The reaction on a woman is, therefore, more intense."

Whatever the reaction of the feminine constitution to cigarette smoke may be, the reaction to Dr. Cummings' words of some of New York's women was immediate. Listen:

"I think it is all rot about ruining complexions," said Mrs. John Francis Yawger, formerly president of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs. "English women have been smoking cigarettes for years, and they have the finest complexions on the face of the earth."

"There is nothing immoral in cigarette smoking, either. This whole wave of criticism that is sweeping over America will act as a boomerang. It simply undermines American morals."

"Too many mandatory things are being thrust on this country. If smoking is a menace to the health of women, I believe women can be trusted to know it. No woman is going to allow anything to interfere with the health of the welfare of her children that the reformers are always scolding her about. I say that it is time that the men stopped telling women what they ought and ought not to do. It is time they trusted women a little more."

"Moreover, I don't believe in laws which control the private acts of individuals. This country is supposed to have free speech and freedom of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Why does everybody want to take them away from us? A cigarette may represent all three to some people."

Had Charge of Women. Something very like a sniff came from Miss Helen Varick Boswell when she was asked to express an opinion on Surgeon General Hugh Cummings' pronouncement. Miss Boswell, an executive of the republican county committee and scheduled to attend the republican national convention in Chicago from New York county. When President Taft wanted some one to inflame club activities for the discontented wives of employees on the Panama Canal during the construction of that engineering marvel, he persuaded Miss Boswell to go down there and take charge. Before she finished the women were so interested in their clubs that they forgot the nostalgia that was influencing them to urge their husbands and return to the states.

"I am not a surgeon general, so perhaps I oughtn't to have an opinion on the subject to express," said Miss Boswell. "As I am in politics, I'm accustomed to thick, heavy tobacco smoke. You might say I was smoke cured. My complexion is gone, anyway, but cigarettes didn't do it, for I am not a smoker. However, I'm a sufferer from insomnia, and again I must say that cigarettes are not responsible. You see, the style came along when my habits were so firmly fixed that I couldn't readily change them."

"I haven't noticed that the habit has harmed any of my cigarette smoking women friends, but then, as I said before, I'm not a surgeon general."

"I know many, many women who do not smoke. Also, I know many many women who do. Most of them smoke a trifle after dinner. They seem to enjoy it. I don't know a single woman who might be said to be addicted to them, who might be called a cigarette fiend. Some of the young women may be pushing the habit to excess, but as I don't see a great many young women I can't say positively."

"On this subject I feel like an old Turkish general that I read about the other day. He was a very old man and was deploring the impudent freedom with which young radicals expressed themselves on all sorts of subjects. He said, in surprise, 'Why, I never had an opinion of any kind until I was sixty years old, and then it was an opinion that had been in the family for years.' We've never had any opinion on this subject in my family, so really I ought to be quiet."

One Turns to Men. Miss Mary L. Wood is chairman of the legislative committee of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs. Recently she expressed herself strongly on the subject in connection with an appeal published by the Methodist Episcopal church authorities asking women not to smoke.

"I'm tired of hearing so much about the habits of women and their effect on the race," she said. "If we paid some attention to the bad habits of men which injure future generations the race would benefit quite as much as from this excessive safeguarding of the habits of women. The mental defectives and congenital criminals are just as much the father's fault as the mother's, and they are not the fault of smoking on the part of either."

The women doctors hesitated to take issue with Dr. Cummings, but the men physicians here are fairly divided.

Dr. A. L. Goldwater says there is more harm, in his opinion, in what is called moderate coffee drinking than in excessive cigarette smoking. He said, also:

"Tobacco smoking is not an unmitigated evil. In many cases a few whiffs affords a very great relief and may be the means of avoiding much greater harm in the form of nervous break-downs. Although I do not smoke myself, I occasionally suggest it to some of my more nervous and high-strung women patients."

"Like Prussic Acid." Dr. Charles G. Pease is president of the Non-Smokers' Protective League. The doctor hates tobacco as much as does a circus elephant. He tells men at every opportunity that nicotine is next to prussic acid in the rapidity and energy of its poisonous action. He tried to reform women smokers by an appeal to their vanity. He says cigarette smoking causes degeneration of all the tissues of the body and first attacks the tissues of the eyes.

"Tobacco smoking causes opacity of the eye," says Dr. Pease. "The human race seems determined to be degenerate. Coffee, tea, cocoa, chocolate and tobacco are all instruments that will accomplish this degeneration. But remember this: No woman smoker has eyes as clear and beautiful as those of women who do not smoke."

WHAT WILL BE FATE OF WOMEN FACING A JURY OF WOMEN?

Since woman first asked for political equality, those opposed to her request have expressed a fear that under the new conditions she would become manly. Despite this fear, however, while women in the last two years have forged ahead and gained much of the power they asked, they have in many ways shown that they have lost none of those ways of women which have always been puzzles, more or less.

Women are voting, they are practicing law, serving on juries and even giving rulings from the bench. At the same time, it has been charged by many attorneys, that women still cling to women's ways when they are litigants in court.

So the question that now takes place of the old time fear is: "How will these womanly qualities that have swayed juries and are said to have influenced judges, fare in the new court, before a woman judge and a jury of women?"

In the last year there have been many striking cases in which women were charged with capital crimes, yet were freed. There were other civil cases which were won by women after it was charged that they were using their beauty to influence judges and juries.

"Enchantresses," one supreme court justice has called them and he has said that not only juries but courts have been enchanted.

In one Chicago case, a woman was dressed so attractively, especially as to shoes and stockings, that at the request of the side opposing her plea, the court ordered a screen placed between her and the jury so the "12 good men and true" could not see the stockings.

She won the case, nevertheless, and from the moment the screen was put in place, she and her attorneys referred to it as a "spite fence erected in court."

Winning a case on beauty alone is a bad precedent and may lead to dangerous forays into high finance, one western jurist has said. A jury is a jury, however, and it has the last word.

A survey of all the cases in which women have been litigants has never been made and such procedure probably would be physically impossible but it is the popular opinion that when a woman goes to court she generally wins. Especially this is true in the so called heart balm cases. Tears, pearls, satins and smiles properly balanced, are said to make juries forget much of the evidence.

But when a man goes to court in a heart balm case, the popular opinion is changed.

Those cases that remain in the public mind indicate that when mere man thinks his heart or his purse has been damaged by a woman, he has no chance whatever of a verdict.

What would a man expect to gain by wearing striking clothes, diamond scarf pins and gold and purple socks?

If to these things he added tears and smiles, the jury might walk out.

Would he fare better before a woman judge or a jury of women? So far man has not tried a heart balm suit under such conditions. It is seldom that a man has the courage to try such a suit at all.

William G. Mueller of Chicago probably will be long remembered as a man of courage in this respect. He brought a suit against Mrs. Laura G. Shepley of St. Paul to recover $32,000 which he alleged Mrs. Shepley had obtained from him by various artifices and stories while he was wooing, the Minneapolis Journal tells.

It was one of the most unusual suits the northwest ever witnessed. Many women have sued men for breach of promise and won. They have sued when they were the victims of swindles and won. Here, however, was a man who alleged that a woman had made light of his love but had taken his money. His love was real he told the court, and so was his money. He had no hope of a love return, but he did hope that he might get the money back.

He lost, and in addition to his loss of the verdict he had to pay the costs of court while it listened to his story and the story of the defendant. Strangest of all, the stories agreed in most particulars. Mrs. Shepley didn't deny getting the money, yet she won the suit and the money is hers. The court found that Mrs. Shepley separated $32,000 every cent of the amount prayed for, but it also decided that she could keep it.

"Where both parties are guilty," said the presiding judge, "the court is not concerned."

A pretty face and pretty manners were said by Mueller to have gotten him into the habit of parting with money. These same smiles and some tears were taken into court to help Mrs. Shepley out.

The judgment of the court took no notice of these things though the spectators did.

Though the court listened patiently through the days of the trial, Mueller never had a chance.

The entire northwest was surprised when Mueller filed his complaint saying that Mrs. Shepley, representing to him that she was a government secret agent, obtained $32,000 from him. Mrs. Shepley was well known in St. Paul and Minneapolis, went much in society and was pretty. Those interested waited for her side of the story. She kept it save for a general denial until she went into the courtroom.

Spectators waited for her story. She would surely disprove all the charges, they thought, otherwise she would never have allowed the case to go to trial.

Then came the surprise of surprises. Mrs. Shepley admitted the allegations in the complaint, though she threw new light on them. Her defense in the legal sense of the word consisted in showing that she had promised to pay the money back when she could, and that, anyway, Mueller had never made a formal demand for the money.

"Bonbon Letter" Read
Then followed the reading of the "bonbon letters," in many of which Mueller offered was matched by another offered by Mrs. Shepley. Those who followed the case were expectant to the last that Mrs. Shepley would bring out some striking bit of defense, but it never came. There was one admission after another.

"Call it that if you wish," was one of her frequent replies to Clarence S. Darrow, attorney for Mueller, who coined phrases to describe the methods used by Mrs. Shepley to obtain money from Mueller.

District Judge J. C. Michael who presided at the trial, summoned up the case in the following terms: "An intensive campaign of love-making and money getting was waged between William and Laura, interspersed with about 600 fervent epistles and frequent meetings in divers hotels in sundry cities, accompanied among other things with tender glances, fond embraces, cafe luncheons, bonbons and taxi rides."

The plaintiff was referred to in the trial as one who did not come into the court with clean hands and so the court wrote a few of the details of the case and said he was not concerned.

The verdict was not unexpected.

at least among the laity, which leaves out of consideration the legal phases. They didn't like the idea of seeing a man take his love affairs into court.

In some cases the court apparently is able to hold the attention of all litigants, whatever the cause of action.

It is said that the Marchioness of Crewe, who was appointed a magistrate in England, has no trouble in holding the attention of all the litigants in cases tried before her.

Distracted the Jury

What would a jury have done? No one can tell what a jury will do, but in similar cases that laymen recall, they gave the verdicts to the women.

In the famous "spite fence" case, the woman who was defendant in the suit charged that the man was given a handicap. She appeared in court in smart clothes but the court ruled that the jury could not keep its mind on its work unless a screen was placed in front of the witness box.

So the screen was placed and the man had his handicap. No screen was placed in front of him and he was not ordered to cover his necktie nor his watch fob.

The jury was not tempted to look at him.

What of the well dressed man of Greek god appearance in the court that is now coming to its own? Will the woman judge order the screen to hide the tailor's art.

The English, who are the first to go in extensively for women judges, apparently have been driven to no such extremes as yet.

Just how far a woman would get before the judges by a display of dressmaking art and other articles of adornment, is still something to be learned.

In this trial Mrs. Amy Rice sued L. T. Sheets for $50,000, alleging that he had promised to marry her after he obtained a divorce. She testified that she and Sheets were frequently together and that he had introduced her as his betrothed. She told of his visits to summer places and to cafes. She said that later Sheets refused to marry her.

Judge Fish granted a new trial saying the verdict of $7,200 was too high and that the testimony of some of the plaintiff's own witnesses tended to refute her claims. Judge Fish in a written opinion said it looked to him as though there had been an effort to entrap the defendant.

"These and other features give the whole case an evil appearance," said the court in his opinion, granting a new trial.

In one phase the trial was similar to that of the Shepley trial.

"His attempts to collect certain loans for which he held the plaintiff's notes no doubt appealed to the jury as very wrong," said the court. "That circumstance very largely, I think explains the evident prejudice reflected in the verdict."

Wait For New Trial
The new trial was granted, but so far no attempt has been made to get the case on the calendar. Unless the case is tried again, the money need not be paid.

Such cases are not retried often, attorneys say. Where the full story is told in a heart balm suit, both sides are reluctant to tell it again. Their anger is usually cooled and they prefer not to tell their troubles to the world.

While it may be that women do not win more suits in proportion to the number they file than the men, that opinion will always cling and there will be many judges who will side with the public and call the women "enchantresses." The same judges, however, and most lawyers will agree that women are good witnesses. They wouldn't win their cases otherwise. Likewise they are seldom accused of perjury. Perhaps they win most because their causes are more often just.

THE FATE OF BAILEY

Returns from the Texas caucuses of last Saturday all run one way. The anti-administration Democrats led by Joseph Weldon Bailey met one of the most disastrous defeats ever administered to a political faction. Regardless of what one may think of Bailey, regardless of whether one is his friend or opponent, the man from Gainesville has fared disastrously in his effort to send a delegation to San Francisco sworn to fight the record and policies of Woodrow Wilson. Even his enemies are surprised at the poor showing made by the clan of Bailey.

If one can get a reasonable distance from the Bailey myth he will be surprised that anyone should ever have expected a Bailey victory. Bailey has opposed every step taken by his party and his country for the past dozen years. Not content with opposing things that were unwise and vicious he vehemently opposed those things that were wise and salutary. If he had stood on a states rights platform and opposed the centralization of government, he would have done better. But he denounced policies demanded by an overwhelming majority of his countrymen and demanded the abolition of reform measures destined to endure as long as time itself.

No democrat will ever get anywhere fighting Woodrow Wilson in a democratic state. Most democrats are proud of many things that have been accomplished during the past seven years and no real democrat will ever apologize for Wilson's work and are well pleased with most of it. Democratic leaders know that whatever the country as a whole may think of an administration, the party responsible for that administration must defend it. To reject it or repudiate it is instant suicide, as the repudiation of Cleveland in 1896 and of Taft in 1912 so well attest. This fact alone was sufficient to account for the downfall of Reed in Missouri and the hair breadth victory of Palmer the unpopular in Georgia.

But Bailey assailed everything that has been done, good, bad or indifferent. He attacked Wilson for doing things that even Republicans admit were wise and salutary. He wept over John Barleycorn, who is dead beyond any resurrection. He made the same speech that Debs is doing time for making in Ohio. He was displeased with the conduct of the war. He grieved that we entered the war. He denounced every leader the democracy of the nation and Texas has had for many years. He advertised himself as the only righteous one crying aloud in the wilderness—the only man with sufficient brains and courage to see that everything is wrong and he alone is right. Like the militant Irishman of the old story he covered too much territory.

But above all things else it was Bailey's war record that placed a perfect mountain in the way of his cohorts. A new army has entered the arena of American politics and that army is known as the American Legion. Those boys know full well that America triumphed over her enemies without one word of encouragement from Bailey. They know mighty well that the man from Gainesville is unable to point to a single deed he performed or a single speech he made to help win the war. They know that even worse than all that, Bailey was a bitter critic of the administration when the administration was charged with the tremendous responsibilities of fighting a nation's battles and was strongly suspected of pro-German views even while our armies were under fire. This belief was strong enough to discomfit Bailey even as it is strong enough to damn any other public servant in anyone of the really loyal states of the union. It was Bailey's misfortune that he ran in Texas instead of Chicago or Wisconsin.

Hardwick of Georgia, Vardaman of Mississippi, Smith of Georgia, Reed of Missouri, and now Bailey of Texas. Each has felt the sting of rebuke expressed by loyal people. And lying just to the Southwest of Missouri, where Reed went to his undoing, just to the north of Texas, where Bailey found his Waterloo, there lies the state of Oklahoma where the same issues are involved and where the people will vote in August.

Ernest E. Blake of Oklahoma City has filed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senate, which is by and large the most important thing political done by an Oklahoma Republican this season. If the Republicans ever get anywhere in this state, they have got to put up candidates of the Blake type. He is a real man of senatorial size, and a whole lot better man than his party is in the habit of running for office. Ever since statehood the G. O. P. has played bush league politics in Oklahoma, seeming to be more interested in holding themselves in readiness for post office appointments than in winning elections. If the party should acquire the habit of nominating men like Ernest Blake, the Democracy would have its work cut out for it a year in advance.

Oklahoma City Times: How much of the controversy in the republican caucus over soldier bonus legislation is real and how much camouflage, cannot be stated from this distance. But as matters stand, there is little probability of the passage of such a measure at this session. Apparently a majority favor the bonus, but the method of taxation to raise the funds is a rock on which they split. With the sales tax also unpopular with the democratic side, chances of agreement are remote.

BUG - OLOGY FIGURE THIS OUT

Bed bugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can rapidly see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading hospitals, hotels and Railroad companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery Pesky Devils Quietus.

A 25c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cooties and at the same time destroy their eggs as well.

Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free, patent spout in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get-at places.

AFTER CLOUDS COMES SUNSHINE.
AFTER DEPENDENCY COMES JOY.
AFTER SICKNESS COMES HEALTH.
AFTER WEAKNESS COMES STRENGTH.

In the spring when you're "all in"—fagged out—blood thin, if you will turn to Nature's remedy, a tonic made from wild roots and barks, which has stood fifty years as the best spring tonic—you will find strength regained. No need to tell you it's Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, put up in tablet or liquid form, and sold by every druggist in the land. After a hard winter—shut up indoors, your blood needs a temperance tonic, a tissue-builder and blood-maker such as this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's.

TALCO, TEXAS— "Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me a great deal of good and I certainly appreciated it. I have taken three bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one of 'Favorite Prescription' and am much improved. They have done me so much good I can't praise them enough. I was in bed with a sore leg for a week and the 'Discovery' cured it."—MRS. L. I. DANIELS, R. R. Box 30.

"L of J." Hike
Twenty-eight boys went out on the "L of J" hike yesterday. Some went to Rock Crossing while the larger number remained at the brick plant. Nearly all enjoyed a swim, the first of the season for the boys. After this we enjoyed our lunches, some of the boys roasting marshmallows in the fire. Their leader, C. V. Dunn, then told them a story which was told with difficulty on account of the wind that was rising. He told of a family in Western Canada who once had or seemed to have a providential escape from being burned to death, because they trusted in God. He told the boys that we should always trust in Him in all kinds of danger and temptation and he would see us through. After the salute and prayer the boys started for their home all seeming to have enjoyed themselves very much.

Prayer Meeting—Christian Church
Prayer meeting will be conducted at the Christian Church Wednesday evening. The ordinance of baptism will be administered. There will be study made of the seventh chapter of Romans. This is one of the greatest and most interesting chapters of the entire book. It takes up the question of the relation of the Jewish people to salvation, and the relation of the Gentiles. It is in this chapter that Paul uses his fine figure of the olive tree. Everyone invited. "L. of J." Song.

(Tune: Battle Hymn of the Republic)

We are young and earnest workers for the Lord from day to day;
We are working in His vineyard, and you bet we're there to stay;
We will ne'er forsake the Master for our name is "L. of J.",
And we will work right on.

Chorus—
We are laborers of Jesus,
We are laborers of Jesus,
We are laborers of Jesus,
And we will work right on.

In this world of sin and sorrow, there is always work to do—
Work for men and work for women, work for me and work for you;
If there's something worth the doing "L. of J." will see it through,
And we will work right on.

Chorus—
"Seven days a week for Jesus" is our motto true and bright;
"Seven days a week for Jesus" every one all full of light;
"Seven days a week for Jesus," every morning, noon and night,
And we will work right on.

Chorus—

FERRIS INTRODUCES BILL FOR PURCHASE FARM LOAN BONDS

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Representative Scott Ferris introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the treasury to purchase from time to time during the fiscal years 1920 and 1921, farm loan bonds in the aggregate amount of $100,000,000.

Ferris is conferring with leaders Mondell and Clark and will press for action this week. Treasury department officials also will be taken into conference. Ferris' statement follows:

"The introduction of my bill is occasioned by the fact that during last July the old line farm mortgage bankers companies instituted suit in Kansas City in the circuit court of appeals, challenging the constitutionality of the farm loan act on account of the tax free provisions of the bonds issued under the authority of the farm loan act."

"This case was argued in the supreme court the first week in January of this year, and on last Monday the court ordered a re-argument of the case, which, in view of the recess which the court will shortly take, means that the decision cannot possibly come until some time after this year."

"In the meantime it is unwise, if not impossible, to sell farm loan bonds where legality is under challenge and it is only from the proceeds of the sale of bonds that farmers are entitled to get the money through the farm loan system."

"I understand that there are already on hand, with appraisals and title examinations already made, applications for loans thoroughly closed up aggregating $20,000,000 and in addition to this the normal needs of the farms from now until October will aggregate at the lowest minimum, not less than $50,000,000 additional."

"The very abnormal financial situation in the country, with the price of call money increasing every day, makes it almost impossible for farmers who had expected to carry their indebtedness through this system to do so and complaints are already coming in that many of these applicants are under the very shadow of foreclosure."

"I feel that congress could perform no greater service to agriculture, especially in these days when farm production is so uncertain, and yet so absolutely necessary, than to see to it, as far as it is possible to do, that the financial needs of these farmers are taken care of."

Board Declares Commissioner's Office Is Vacant

The office of county commissioner in the Roff-Stonewall district was declared vacant by a resolution adopted by the board of county commissioners and the governor was requested to appoint someone immediately to fill the vacancy.

The resolution sets forth that at the last election H. F. Bibb was elected county commissioner from the district in question and that he qualified and took the oath of office last July. That he has not attended a meeting of the board since February 1st, but has removed from the county and the state. The resolution declares that the interests of the district are suffering because of the vacancy and requests the governor to make immediate appointment to fill the vacancy.

DO YOU LOOK STOUT?

Why Not Slenderize by Wearing a Roberta
Laced-in-Front Corset?

Scientific designing of your Nemo Corset gives you proportionate lines—you look taller and more slender.

Your flesh is properly cared for—not by squeezing you—but by moulding it into the lines of the corset which has been designed over a stout figure with ideal lines.

It sounds sensible, doesn't it, to let the corset mould the soft flesh rather than try to make yourself look smaller by squeezing into shape?

The Shield under the lacers add so much to the comfort of the corset, in keeping the lacers from the body.

The Clasps with flexible tops and the rubber inserts make Nemo most desirable.

It is more important than ever, to know that you are wearing the corset adapted to your figure. Our corsetiers will advise with you, suggesting what is suitable.

STREET CARS WILL LEAVE OKMULGEE

OKMULGEE, May 4. — For ten years the race between the automobile and the street car has been on in Okmulgee, and the automobile won Saturday.

The Okmulgee Traction company has started to take off its electric street cars, tear up the track, and remove the trolley. The company says that within a month not a trace of the street car system will remain.

The automobile has put the street railway project on the "bad" officials report. Ten years ago the company started operation but has never been strong or assuring. The automobile made its appearance about the same time, and the race was on.

There is now one car to every six persons. Although the city has eighteen thousand people it is said that very few patronize the trolley cars. The 3,000 automobiles are said to be the cause.

The traction company is going to employ the homeopathic remedy, according to information given out here. It is going to put on a full line of especially equipped automobiles, and this at the approval of the public, which it is claimed, has long seen and felt that the traction company's effort was a losing game, and that any reasonable turn for the betterment of its affairs is justifiable.

The News Bible Lesson

Psalms 1:1-6

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

The ungodly are not so; but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous. For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

A nice, pleasant purgative that also has a genial stimulating effect in the liver and stomach is one reason why Prickly Ash Bitters is so well liked by people who have used it. They find it a good medicine for the whole family. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.

"NO OTHER CHILL TONIC EVER GAVE SUCH SATISFACTION"

IS HOW OKLAHOMA MAN ENDORSES SWAMP CHILL AND FEVER TONIC.

Mr. Harve Smith of Halleyville, Oklahoma, tried various chill tonics, but found nothing that equalled Swamp Chill and Fever Tonic. He says this famous remedy never failed to cure his chills.

Thousands of others who once suffered from malaria, ague and similar ailments praise Swamp Chill Tonic as strongly as Mr. Smith. For 20 years it has been the one never failing remedy.

Swamp Chill Tonic acts quickly and surely. It seldom takes more than three days to break up chills. And no purgative has to be taken with it—the medicine itself acts gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels.

There is no Calomel in Swamp Chill Tonic—nothing but purely vegetable ingredients and iron. It is tasteless, and pleasant to take. Numerous physicians prescribe it regularly—they know it is the best remedy there is for malaria, ague, chills, fever, colds, grippe, etc.

Dealers everywhere recommend and sell Swamp Chill Tonic. The price is 60 cents. Try a bottle.

Swift & Company Does Not Control Its Raw Material

Other industries can buy their raw materials according to need or judgment, and set a selling price. They need manufacture only what they can sell at their price.

Cotton, wool, wheat, lumber, iron, steel, and other non-perishables, can be held either by their producers or their users until needed.

But live stock comes to market every day in fluctuating quantities from scattered sources, wholly uncontrolled and at times without regard to market needs.

An immediate outlet must be found for the perishable products, at whatever price, as only a very small proportion can be stored.

No one can foresee or stipulate what they shall bring; prices must fluctuate from day to day to insure keeping the market clear.

Only the most exacting care of every detail of distribution enables Swift & Company to make the small profit from all sources of a fraction of a cent per pound, necessary for it to continue to obtain capital and maintain operations.

Potato Bugs Will Come Is Warning Of County Agent

This is the open season for potato bugs and other insects that eat up gardens, according to County Agent J. B. Hill, and gardeners and potato growers should immediately take steps to destroy insect pests.

He recommends an immediate application of arsenate of lead to potatoes, vegetables and fruit trees. A suitable spray can be made by mixing one part of powdered arsenate of lead with thirty parts of water. An application of this mixture will destroy all insects that feed on the growing vegetation. A large crop of potato bugs may be expected to appear within the next few days. The first bugs made their appearance 15 days ago and left the eggs which will hatch out a full crop of young bugs presently.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Not merely because each New Edison, regardless of price, is encased in a period design art cabinet—but mainly because the New Edison actually Re-Creates music so perfectly that you cannot distinguish the New Edison's Re-Creation from the artist's own rendition. The New Edison is absolutely the only phonograph that Re-Creates music—mark that—the ONLY phonograph.

Y. M. Entertains Y. W.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was given Monday evening in the library of the Normal by the boys of the Y. M. C. A., to the girls of the Y. W. C. A.

There was a regular schedule of events which was carried out to the letter.

Events:
1. Game of base ball.
2. Jumping contest.
3. Candy Contest.
4. Necktie race.
5. Dress parade.
6. Face fighting contest.
7. Y. M. C. A. review.
8. Here's to Y. W.
Captains: Pros—Mr. Mitchell, Cons—Mr. Porterfield, Neutrals—Mr. Newcomb.
Announcer and starter—Mr. Norris.
Judges—Misses Paxton and Carney, Mr. Vernon.
Captains' orderlies—Messrs Riddle, Caskey, Hatcher.
Official score keeper—Dr. Bradford.

The entire party was divided into three groups viz.: pros, cons, and neutrals. The neutrals came out first in the game of baseball and the jumping contest. Each group won one point in the candy eating contest, the cons and pros won the necktie race and dress parade respectively. All had an equal chance in the face fighting contest in which each was provided with a generous dish of cream and cake.

The Y. M. C. A. review was a clever "take off" on the masculine members of the faculty in which they discussed the young child Y. M. in East Central.
"Here's to Y. W." proved a very popular closing to a most enjoyable evening. The boys served punch manfully and gracefully to their fair guests and the Y. W. responded by inviting the Y. M. to accompany them to the lake on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock for lunch.

The boys covered themselves with glory in the manner in which they carried out their plans and in the very elegant manner in which they served the guests.
